Alma Mater

1. Through the years of fun and labor
Thee our hearts shall rule,
One and all we stand to honor
Our Newfane Central School.

Chorus:

Alma Mater through the ages
Let thy glory reign,
Whether fair or stormy weather
Hail, all hail Newfane.

2. Onward in the path of learning
Hold our steadfast way,
While we from our shelter turning
To the world may say.

3. When our steps are feeble growing
'Neath life's heavy load,
In our hearts the love still growing
Brightens all the road.

OUR THEME

Finding ourselves in the territory once populated by members of the Iroquois Confederacy, we chose the civilization of these Indian tribes as the theme for our 1953 "Century."

The basic law or supporting framework of the Confederacy was well expressed by Alexander C. Flick, "Using the communal dwelling house, the members of the league established a league of tranquillity among their people and encouraged peaceful pursuits." Within our school we, too, unite to promote successful daily living in the light of democratic goals.

The Civil chiefs held authority over all, as does the Board of Education. The Civil Council, comprised of the elders, who made and executed the laws, is represented by the administration. Representatives of each of the nations formed the Great Council, our faculty. We think of our senior class as the Mohawk, mightiest tribe of the Confederacy. The juniors couldbe likened to the next most important tribe, the Oneida. We give the name of the third tribe, the Onondaga, to the sophomore class. The Cayugas, the fourth nation, are the freshmen.

The fifth nation, the Seneca tribe, had the most members, as do the seventh and eighth grades.

The youngest tribe, and the last to become a part of the Confederacy, was the Tuscarora whose counterpart is the elementary grade section.

Now, let us follow the trail to the council fires.

DEDICATION

In the four years that Mr. White has been with us, he has taught various subjects, including chemistry, physics, and business arithmetic. In addition, he has aided many students in his roll as guidance counselor. He has been very active in organizing the seventh and eighth grade baseball and basketball teams. To Mr. White, teacher, counselor, and friend, we dedicate this edition of the "Century."

As he jogged leisurely westward about three hundred and eighty years ago, Little Eagle Heart, young Iroquois brave, was pondering the words of his elders. Around the campfires, and on hunting expeditions, he had heard discussions about the Iroquois Confederacy - a sort of Indian League of Nations - or an Indian "United Nations", how the Mohawk, Onondaga, Oneida, Cayuga, Tuscarora and Seneca tribes had agreed to abolish war with one another.

The Iroquois League principles were Peace, Prosperity, Power and Equity for all, and Little Eagle Heart turned these words over in his mind, trying to fit them into the pattern of his life. He gradually realized that peace would help him and others achieve true prosperity, and that prosperous and contented people build a happy and strong nation. His elders usually concurred among themselves as to these two parts of the compact.

Power and Equity, especially Equity, troubled him; he had heard many lengthy debates among the older men about how power should be used, whether for aggression or self-protection, and came to the conclusion that if he were to live a peaceful and prosperous life he must keep himself physically strong and mentally alert all the time, so as to gain the respect of others and deter action against him and his people.

Twilight was merging into night while Little Eagle Heart meditated Equity. He had a feeling it meant that he and his people should be fair and square in their dealings with others if they were to expect others to be fair and square with them. While watching the stars as he lay on the bank of the Niagara River that night he had a vision that if the Golden Rule would be practiced by all peoples everywhere Equity could become a great living force in his world -- and in our world.

The Mohawks began to prepare at the first moon to become good braves. The legend, "Outward Bound", by Sutton Vane, was enacted by them.

Their record of achievements includes serving food to the Felt Mill, a spaghetti supper, a dance of hearts with the Oneidas. They followed the trail down the Hudson River to "New York." Final ceremonies, baccalaureate and graduation, found the braves getting ready to be full-fledged members of their tribe. Then, they followed the trail that they had reviewed to New York.

The Classof '53 presented the three-act comedy "We Shook the Family Tree",by Perry Clark, Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26, under the direction of Miss Mary McBrien.

"We Shook the Family Tree" concerns the "trials and tribulations" of a teen-ager, Hildegarde Dolson, who finds herself without a date for the Prom. Mrs. Dolson arranges to have Freddie Shermer escort Hildegarde. Unfortunately, Freddie's mother insists that he wear knickers all of the time. In their efforts to be sure that he has long pants for the dance, Freddie and Hildegarde create many embarrassing situations. Other members of the cast, Hildegarde's two brothers, their girl friends,and the little neighbor girl add to the general turmoil. A happy ending is achieved when Freddie pawns his graduation present to buy a suit of clothes.

The Senior Class of 1953, under the direction of Mrs. Wesley Ives, presented Sutton Vane's "Outward Bound" in the school auditorium Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15.

"Outward Bound" takes place on board ship, as seven passengers find themselves heading out to sea, each bound for a destination, apparently known only to the steward. One by one they realize they are dead and headed for eternity. At the end of the journey, five of the passengers face the examiner and each is rewarded or punished according to the life he has led. The other two passengers, referred to as "halfways" who had attempted suicide, start out on the return journey and decide to face life with courage.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1953 of Newfane Central School, being of sound mind and body, do hereby proclaim this to be our last will and testament.

We leave what patience we have to Mr. Bentley and his faculty so it may be added to that which they have shown throughout the years.

Each senior hereby sorrowfully bequeaths his most valued or cherished possession to the more fortunate ones who remain behind. May the best care and use be given to these bequests.

Dave Ascher wills his golden locks to Mr. White... George Bradley his rock 'em sock 'em football technique to next year's team... Sally McKnight just hopes to leave as the wedding bells are ringing, and speaking of bells, Darrold Bell wants Beverly Gray to have his car... Lois Taber is leaving her red hair to Norma Bixler so she can throw away the peroxide bottle (Does the temper go with it?)... That book on romance technique of Bruce Stark's is left to Elton Forsyth while Bill Lampman's freshman fans go to Dick Lute... Martin Obermiller wants Rog Strong to have his knickers and "Soupy" Marburg gives his peg pants to Ruth Wyman (Won't they look cute!)... Bob Brounscheidel left special interest class the second day... Shirley Malloy will receive Donnie Smith's job at the Supermarket... (Bob Brancato leaves the shoulders of all the girls to the boys who want them)... Jane Wolford's trip to New York in the middle of March goes to next year's Senior Revue... The chairman of next year's Learn-To-Dance gets the bunny-hop from Randall Patterson... Bruce Royer bequeaths his morning naps in history to John Williams while it is the wish of Marilyn Branch that the driver of Bus 2 receive her driver training experience... Tom Hallifax inherits some freckles from Barbara Kolbe... Roger Volkstadt leaves Miss Kehrer in tears... In the dramatics department, Marge McCormick leaves her aristocratic air from "Outward Bound" to Mr. Carnevale and Maxine Hillman leaves her ability for portraying maternal roles to Bev Neidlinger... Bob Treichler wills his dribbling technique to Bill Britt... Linda Nesseltre bequeaths her glasses to the basketball referees (Make good use of them)... That cool, calm, collected manner of John Henning's is left to Barb Ammerman... Nancy Brown leaves her library cart to Sandra Truax and Virginia Schwach gives her telephone number to Tommy Jones (P.S. Tom, it's 4464)... Coralynn Brown wants Mr. Coppola and his many voices to have her solo parts in chorus... George Taylor leaves his attendance record to Rose Volschow... (The cheerleading ability of JoAnn Capen is left to LaVerne Moon)... Betty Rostas leaves her quiet(?) manner to Claudia Wilson and Ronnie Webb receives the senior paint brushes and posters of Annette Lampe... Ronnie Hall bequeaths his salesmanship ability to Mrs. Klock while that 10¢ bus service from school to Stierly's is turned over to Don Klumpp by Gary Douglas... Dora Colton wills her energetic and peppy ways to Bill Brado... Ruth Bruning inherits the nightly hitch-hiking from Lockport of Nick Stevens while Bob Gominiak leaves his escapades in chemistry to Carol Harding... Lee Chamberlin just left his quiet manner in his junior year... The love problems of Nancy Miller go to Pat Wilcox... Richard Neary leaves his Lockport girls to anyone who has that Don Juan technique... Phyllis Shelton wants next year's FHA treasurer to have her long hours in the homemaking room while Richard Newman will receive Dave Dallman's trips to the health office... Gerard Schwach will get that "Charles Atlas" look of Jim McDonough's and Rosemary McLean receives Marion Parker's athletic ability... Regretfully Angela Palia leaves her Edith Head wardrobe to Kenny Liddell and with just as much sorrow Cliff Noon bequeaths his "Scope Doodlers" jacket to Marsha Powers... Bob Flagler leaves his heartline calls at Stierly's to the girls who have to answer the phone, while the blind dates of John Updegrove are bequeathed to Russell Taber... Duane Carlton leaves his attraction for women teachers to Paul Wood... Barb Goff is to receive Ray Taylor's morning saunter to catch the school bus... Next year's senior president receives Tom Chunco's favorite saying in class meetings, "Let's keep it down"... Harold Garman wants Sally Schoelles to have the chairmanship of senior activities and Arlene Harrington leaves her late hours to Roselyn Rush... Yvonne Lucas leaves her Middleport "pickles" (sweet?) to Millers Pickles, Inc...The basketball trips of Keirn Vincent go to Ronnie Liddell... Don Palmerton bequeaths his back-stage work for the Stage Crew to Mr. Chiavaro while Butch Stephens leaves his fur trapping to Jack Eaton... Howard Place gives his position as the "Pied Piper" of the NCS band to Jeanette Kolbow... Gordon Strong has tender memories as he leaves math classes... Carole Schultz bequeaths the joys and sorrows of the "Century" to Dorothy Weinheimer...

We hereby appoint the Class of 1954 executors of this will.

Class of 1953

CLASSES

"And you, Onondagas, who have your habitation at the 'Great Mountain' and are over shadowed by its crags shall be the third nation, because you are gifted in speech, and mighty in war."
"And you, Oneidas, a people who recline on your bodies against the 'Everlasting Stone' that cannot be moved, shall be the second nation, because you give wise counsel."
ONONDAGAS

CLASS ACTIVITIES

JUNIOR OFFICERS

Seated D. Keirn, president
Standing C. Dussault, vice-president; W. Brado, treasurer; R. Wyman, secretary

The Oneidas chose as their leaders: chief, Darr Keirn; medicine man, Carol Dussault; recorder of legends, Ruth Wyman; and keeper of wampum, William Brado.

"School Daze" booklets were bartered so that the young braves could exchange their totems with one another. The Oneidas invited the Mohawks for a harvest dance during the October moon. The Mohawks smoked a peace pipe with the Oneidas during the wihter moon.

The Oneidas enacted a legend, "A Mind of Her Own" by Anne Ferring Weatherly during the rain moon.

Totems in the form of booster pins and lapel pins were traded during the various dances.

Big pow-wows were held after mock battles on the basketball court.

The final dance of the Oneidas before being graduated into the Mohawk tribe, was held Friday, May 22nd. The Oneidas also assisted the Mohawks in their final step toward becoming braves at Class Night, Friday, June 5th.

D. Deci, treasurer
G. Mael, vice-president
D. Klumpp, president
C. Liddell, secretary

SOPHOMORES OFFICERS

The Onondagas made much wampum just before they became full-fledged braves.

During the September moon protective skins or book covers were bartered. Throughout the ten moons this tribe guarded the possessions of visiting tribes for a pow-wow. One dance for which they invited the other tribes was held on Sadie Hawkin's Day.

Their final pow-wow of the season was telling legends around the council fires.

JUNIOR HIGH ACTIVITIES

FRESHMEN OFFICERS

Seated R. Liddell, president
Standing J. Miller, secretary; P. Ammerman, treasurer; D. Bates, vice-president

The Cayugas began their initiation ceremonies by serving their tribe by trading pencils and programs at the mock wars on the basketball court.

They gave a program of the "masks" and sang the songs of the tribe and performed a ghost dance.

Harvest moon found the Onondagas guests of the Cayugas and games of skill were performed.

EIGHTH GRADE

At the close of our eighth year in the Long House we know that soon we shall be qualified to sit in council with our elders. In preparation we have deliberated among ourselves, discussing questions of importance to us and to the rest of the world. We have found that in freedom it is necessary to let our neighbor speak, and to give his idea our grave attention. We have heard the legends handed down by the story-tellers, and have set in wampum the beauty of the snow, the stars, an autumn day. Nor have we neglected the history of the Long House; the deeds of our fathers are a light to illumine the trail of the future. Our bodies and our minds are strong through work and play. Hear us, chiefs, for we are no longer children.

SEVENTH GRADE

People of the Long House, hear now the legend of the young braves of the seventh clan of the Oneidas, Keepers of the Council Fire. During these ten moons we have learned from our walks through the country of our fathers how the brook has formed its bed, how our wild brothers live. and how the clouds call the weather. We have sat at our council fires while our leaders told us of the great deeds of the mighty Iroquois and, though we have not been there, we can trace their trails along the great Ontario, the mighty Mohawk and Hudson. We have learned how to make good trade with our wampum and how to trust one another. We have fought mock battles on the basketball and volleyball courts during our gaming period. We have kept our bodies fit on the great field outside the Long House. We have learned, these many moons, the things that a good brave should know. Here, then, is our legend.

BASEBALL

The Newfane Baseball team had a good season last year. Sparked by Bill Brado and Chuck Thursam, they rolled up a season's record of six wins and four losses. The highlight of the season was the game against Royalton-Hartland when the Newfane nine threatened to defeat the league leaders and lost by only one point.

The forecast for this season is very hopeful despite the loss of Capen, Smith, Klumpp, and Thursam.

FOOTBALL

Under the tutelage of its new coach, Joseph Donovan, the Newfane football team romped through an undefeated and untied season, winning the Niagara-Orleans trophy for the first time in its history. Lee Chamberlin and Chuck Bangs were co-captains of this championship team. Scores from the four league games were as follows:

Newfane	38	Royalton-Hartland	6
Newfane	33	Lewiston-Porter	12
Newfane	47	Barker	0
Newfane	20	Wilson	7

Next year eleven man football will replace six man football as the fall Varsity sport. Since none of the boys have had any eleven man experience, this season will be one of learning and building for the future.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Although not overcrowded in the win column, with 3 victories against 7 setbacks in league competition, this year's Varsity squad, captained by Bill Brado, accomplished far more than is revealed in the record books. Starting with a relatively green team, only one regular of five returning seniors, along with four seniors in their first year of Varsity ball, Coach Joseph Donovan built a fighting team with an abundance of sportsmanship and spirit.

Prospects for an excellent season next year seem bright with a number of boys who have Varsity experience to fill the shoes of the graduating seniors. In addition, there are promising recruits from the J.V. squad who have proven their ability. Next year's team will lose the services of nine graduating seniors. These are George Bradley, Tom Chunco, Jim McDonough, Keirn Vincent, Bob Treichler, Ron Hall, Lee Chamberlin, Bruce Stark and John Henning.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity had a fairly successful season, taking five of the ten league contests for a .500 average.

This year's team was composed almost entirely of new players, with only three from last year's squad.

In their ten games, the boys outscored their opponents 376 points to 346. Of the five games lost two were dropped by a 2 point margin, and one in an overtime period against Roy-Hart by one point.

Besides having a fairly successful season the boys gained the much needed experience that will enable a number of them to move into Varsity berths in the coming season. However, there will be some players remaining around whom Coach Enzinna can build the J. V. team for next year.

VOLLEYBALL

The year 1952 saw Newfane Central enjoy a very successful season in volleyball. The team took first place in the Class B competition and then defeated Barker, the Class A winners, for the overall Niagara-Orleans championship.

They then journeyed to Dunkirk to the Class B sectionals. Here the Newfane team was eliminated from the Round Robin tourney at the end of the two games they played.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

This year's cheering squad was comprised of eight girls selected by a committee of faculty members. Two girls were chosen to represent each high school class.

Sharon Brewer and Sue Grauer completed their first year of varsity cheerleading, while Ruth Bruning, Carol Dussault, and Shirley Stevens ended their second year.

A new and able addition to the squad is Yvonne Lucas, a veteran cheerleader from Middleport, who joined the team during the last half of the year.

Sally McKnight and JoAnne Capen have cheered for four years and were co-captains of the squad.

The squad held regular practices under the direction of Miss Hiller and succeeded in arranging many new cheers and revising some of the more familiar ones.

The girls have encouraged the teams during the current sports season and have tried to build better spirit and sportsmanship throughout the entire school.

JV CHEERLEADERS

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders, Nancy House, Lynn Beals, Carol Morey, and Mary Lou Eaton, added aid to the Junior Varsity basketball team at all home games.

GIRLS' PLAYDAY TEAM

This basketball season proved to be very successful for the Playday Team. The first game was played at Roy-Hart with the final score, Newfane 28 - Roy-Hart 18. At Wilson the team again was victorious by defeating their opponents 36-25.

Next year's team will lose the following seniors: JoAnne Capen, Dora Colton, Yvonne Lucas and Marion Parker.

The team credits its success this season to the fine coaching and leadership of Miss Hiller.

AT NEWFANE

Newfane was privileged to be the site of the New York State Sectional Music Association meeting in 1953. NYSSMA meets annually in the fall and the sessions are attended by high school music students living in this part of Western New York. Similar sectionals are held throughout the state.

The participants arrived at Newfane Central School on Friday afternoon, November 21 and stayed overnight at the homes of various people in the village. A concert was held in the Newfane Central School Auditorium Saturday evening. Guest conductorswere Mr. Francis Diers, directing the chorus, Mr. Donald Hartman,directing the band,and Mr.Joseph Wincenc, directing the orchestra.

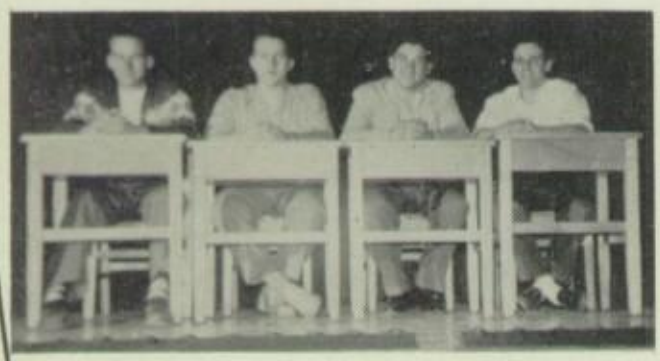
WE'LL REMEMBER

Once upon a time there was a big chief, Mr. Bentley.

Under the guidance of this big chief and the other members of the faculty, we have participated in many events and activities, which will long be remembered. This is the way we shall recall the teachers.

When we take on responsibilities out in the world the experience we gained from the mock presidential election will benefit us in our political life.



We'll remember that undefeated football season and those hard hours of toil which brought us our first football trophy.

The other dances and social activities which we have enjoyed will long remind us of our happy years at N.C.S.

That wonderful evening we spent in Paris with our queen, Joanne Capen, will always linger in our memories. Also, never to be forgotten is the Junior-Senior Valentine Dance.

When we tune in -

Are you hearing me Shirley?

WE'LL REMEMBER

While the papooses are growing up to be Indian Princesses and Braves, they engage in various activities.

Young Indian braves and future princesses must know the ways of all peoples. Here they are as young Greeks.

The Little Indians made boats as they were learning about the Dutch.

At the round table the Indians gather to work on the many interesting art projects.

The little papooses also have learned that they have to rest and to get the proper food in order to carry on their activities.

YEARBOOK STAFF

D. Weinheimer Jr. Editor

The Century Staff composed of seniors and juniors held its first meeting in October. At this one general meeting we chose as our theme the Iroquois Confederacy. Features for the yearbook were planned and the separate staffs each received certain duties.

In February we started the actual work. Daily meetings after school and Sunday afternoons began in March and lasted until the Century was completed, April 1.

The Business Manager, Nancy Brown, and her staff started taking orders for the Century, February 2. They sold yearbooks every noon hour in the bookstore and sent notices and order blanks home with the grade students. This lasted until March 27 when all sales on the Century were closed.

We have worked many hours on this yearbook but feel that it has been worth the effort. We hope now that you have seen it you will agree with us.
